How businesses can get involved....

Accessibility

Open your business up to as many potential customers as possible, accessing a market worth an estimated £16 billion and reflecting the status of our destination as the Birthplace of the Paralympics.

Use the boxes below to describe in as much detail as possible how your business can accommodate those with access requirements. Please only complete the boxes below if your business has made the necessary adjustments to accommodate these visitors. By filling out the boxes below, your profile will be shown on dedicated landing pages.

Considerations have been made for:

- Visitors with visual impairments
- Visitors with mobility impairments
- Visitors with hearing impairments
- Neurodiverse visitors
- An accessibility guide is available

Do you already have a comprehensive accessibility guide for your listing? Add the URL below. If you still need to create one, VisitEngland offer this free and easy to use tool.

Welcome

Pull a power pose next to Matilda, measure yourself against the BFG, test your sparkiness on the Spark-o-meter and come face-to-face with Fantastic Mr Fox.

Your Museum ticket includes crafts, trails and three hands-on interactive galleries. Enjoy storytelling on selected weekend and school holiday dates led by our expert storytellers. Pick up our village and countryside trails and head off to explore the village and countryside that inspired Roald Dahl's stories.

What is disability?

Taking a different approach to thinking about what disability is can create more understanding of others' experiences.

What barriers face disabled people?

The barriers that act to disable people in society take many forms, but can be removed or lessened. Discover these barriers as a first step.

Facts and figures – why you should help to create positive change

Many disabling barriers that people face can be removed or lessened. This is both the right thing, and the financially prudent thing, to do.

What are the accessibility requirements in your sector?

Depending on which sector you operate in, there will be accessibility actions to take to ensure you are open to all visitors.

Create an Accessibility Guide for your premises and services

An Accessibility Guide provides disabled people with important accessibility information, enabling an informed decision on where to visit.

Legal requirements and making adjustments

By law, businesses must make "reasonable adjustments" to policies and procedures to ensure a disabled person can access goods and services.
